

Cannabis: A Miracle Drug

Now it's official. Many scientific tests conducted on cannabis have shown that it's the ability to cure lots of incurable ailments, thus giving patients a new hope. Studies have proved that cannabis is a kind of wonder drug that is capable of transforming the lives of sick people very radically.

According to the recent studies that were based on the first ever clinical trials of the drug, cannabis and cannabis seeds are far more capable to treat ailments than the doctors, patients, as well as the cannabis campaigners ever dared to hope. That's why some of the patients have begun to call cannabis a 'wonder or miracle drug'.

Though consuming the drug and prescribing it is still illegal, it's has successfully enabled a man who was previously crippled with pain and was an impotent to become a proud father. In another case it also enabled a woman to ride a horse who was otherwise paralyzed by multiple sclerosis for many years.

Though the claims of these benefits after using cannabis drug for certain conditions have been subjective, but even in that case, the preliminary results suggest that more than 80 per cent of patients those were taking the drugs have got even more benefits from cannabis drug than from any other kind of drug.

These amazing results make it inevitable that the governments across the world will have to bow to public pressure and may think about legalizing the cultivation of cannabis for medical purposes.

In fact cannabis and human relation is centuries old. According to some experts cannabis has been used for medical purposes more than 5,000 years ago. And encouraged by these developments scientists predict that it'll even surpass aspirin and penicillin and will become a 'wonder drug' that can be prescribed in a wide range of conditions.

Doctors also believe that cannabis drug could eventually prove beneficial in ailments such as osteoporosis, HIV, cancer, Aids, spine injury, arthritis, and certain forms of mental illnesses as well.

One of the most important aspects of cannabis use of medicinal purposes is its usefulness in to get rid of drug abuses such as cocaine. Similarly the use of cannabis is also found useful in quitting smoking and alcohol addiction.

Apart from its medicinal purposes cannabis has many other uses as well making it the most versatile and useful plant on earth. The uses of cannabis are plenty. It's used for fuel, to make paper, as food, cannabis fiber is used to make rope, clothes, nets, sails, shoes, paint, sealant, methanol, gasoline, packing mass, lubricants, animal food, furniture, lotions, lacquer, and many more...

There are almost 50,000 commercial uses of cannabis. Just a century ago almost all the bibles maps, clothes, and books were made from cannabis. Similarly much of the world's population used to eat cannabis seed. All these aspects make cannabis a wonder plant.
